The students in the Rescue One program wish you a very blessed Thanksgiving and Christmas season. Their hearts overflow with gratitude for your gifts which enrich their lives.

Christmas Celebration

Each December our Haitian church partners plan a festive event for the Rescue One students to remind them of Jesus' extravagant love for them. Some years, all of the students are gathered together into one place. Other years, each church plans its own joyous occasion. Children will sing Christmas carols, hear the story of the birth of our Savior and receive gifts appropriate to their needs.

Joey

Joey is considered to be one of the brightest youths in the RO program. This 22-year-old has just completed high school and achieved exceedingly high scores in the national exams organized by the Ministry of Education in Haiti. Since he was recruited into the program, he has always been first in his class and this year is first in his school in the national exams.

Joey was recruited into the RO program in 2010 when he was chosen to replace an older brother, Freddy, who died in a fall from a mango tree. The event severely affected the course of Joey's life. This brother was a role model to Joey who never misses an opportunity to praise him. In recalling the event, a deep sadness comes into Joey's eyes.

Joey is calm and reserved but this does not prevent him from being active. He is president of the youth association of his church and is a singer/songwriter in an inter-church group. He believes in working assiduously and with discipline to achieve a better tomorrow.

Joey has a love for mathematics and would like to become a civil engineer. He would also like to study agronomy and economics. With his self-discipline and aptitude, he will shine in whatever area he chooses.

Because of your support, Joey has a bright future. During his seven years in the program he has made his leaders proud of him.

Petition: Ask God to make Joey and students like him in the YEP program successful as they begin their education in college or trade school.. College students began their classes on November 2.

Pray that the political unrest in Haiti will ease so that our students can live without fear.

Continue to ask for God's blessings on our Haitian partners who are the key to the success of the program.

Soupe Joumou

(Pumpkin Soup)

Each New Year's Day, all Haitians who are able will dine on a delectable mix of pureed Haitian pumpkin (known to us as calabaza squash) mixed with meat or chicken, vegetables such as onion, turnip, celery and potatoes and spices such as cloves, parsley and thyme.

This soup is near and dear to the hearts of the Haitians because it celebrates January 1, 1804, the day on which the Haitian slaves declared independence from the French colonialists. Up until that day, only the French were allowed to savor this delicacy.

Did you know...

Today, one in six girls in Haiti is enslaved in domestic servitude, one in four girls has been sexually abused, and only one in three girls completes primary school and is able to start high school.
